Experience

Various, Freelance Designer/Illustrator
Global (Remote) May 2019 - Nov 2021, Jul 2024 - Present

Illustrating a comic book series, creating illustrated assets for an e-learning environment, designing responsive websites and visualising data for text books. Creating marketing assets and visual displays for events e.g. Sony's technology showcase in King's Cross' Lightroom. Alongside my freelance work, I've also been working on creating my own 3D printed lighting brand, Abuku.

Emperor, Digital Designer
London, UK Nov 2021 - Jul 2024

Creating captivating digital experiences that blend aesthetic appeal with seamless functionality. Figma drove my daily work routine, which I used alongside Adobe software such as Photoshop and Illustrator.

Working closely with project managers, strategists and developers, I ensured that concepts were translated successfully into functional experiences. Notable projects include Derwent London's 2022 Online Sustainability Report, Pepaminto's single page website and IAG's new website design.

Communication was key to my role, both in regards to my team and with clients, with whom I liaised with both through design presentations and general correspondence, both remotely and in person.

Maggie & Rose Ltd., Graphic Designer
London, UK Sep 2017 - May 2019

Creating assets using both hand and digital illustration. I worked on a variety of projects, including creating posters, menus, timetables, adverts, comic strips and the brand's quarterly magazine. Designing and sourcing suppliers for the brand's own product range, and assisting in creating product displays.
